

Journal Entries Semester Two

You will be responsible for ten journal entries throughout the semester. Journal entries must be about 100 words long and they must be typed before they are turned in. You may have some class time to begin working on journal entries, but you will be expected to finish the journal entries on your own time. The journal entries are worth 10 points each. Ten journal entries will total 100 points total. The first five journal entries will be due during your English lesson on the week of March 12-16. If you do not turn in your first five journal entries by this class period, you will get zero points for the first five journal entries. The second five journal entries are due on the week of April 23-27. If you do not turn in the last five entries by this class period, you will get zero points for the last five journal entries.

Journal entries must include the writer's name, the date of the journal entry, and the topic or question answered. Each journal entry must be unique and should be written by the student handing in the entries. You may use each journal entry prompt only once.

Here are examples of journal entries prompts you may use:

- If I were an animal, I would be...
- If I found ten hryven on the ground, I would ...
- If I could travel anywhere in the world, I would go ...
- Why are you studying English at TNPU?
- What's your favorite quote or saying? Why?
- The best season is...
- When I was five, I remember...
- Ukraine rocks because...
- Which is better: dogs or cats? Why?
- What is your favorite free-time activity?
- The best holiday is...
- I am afraid of...
- Today I feel...
- If I could meet any person from history, I would meet...
- If I had a million dollars, I would...
- Ternopil is...

Happy writing. I hope you enjoy the journal writing tasks.

My Journal Example
Sharece Michelle Bunn

Here are some examples of journal entries. Both entries are on the short end of the journal entry. You can write as few as 102 words but if your grammar and spelling is horrible, you won't get as many points for the journal entry. I encourage you to try your best to make good journal entries. Do your best and your writing skills will likely improve.

Journal Entry #1

Sharece M. Bunn

January 12, 2012

If I were in charge of the world...

If I were in charge of the world, I would make it mandatory for people to smile at least 50 percent of the day. Even if people were sad and lonely, I would make it so they had to be nice to people even if those people were not nice to them. I believe that if people smiled more, the world we live in would be more peaceful and everyone would be happier. When people are happier, life is always better and less stressful. If I were in charge of the world, our world would be a better place to live in. (only 102 words)

Journal Entry#2

Sharece M. Bunn

January 18, 2012

If I could live in any city in the world...

If I could live in any city in the world, I would live in Seattle, Washington. Seattle is the greatest city for me because I know the native language (English) very well. Seattle is an artsy city. People move to Seattle to live freely, make art, and listen to fantastic music. If I move to Seattle this summer, I want to work for a company in the communications department. When I'm not working, I want to take art classes at the community colleges or universities and listen to live music in coffee shops. Finding things we like to do outside of work is just as important as finding work we love. I hope that I can move to Seattle. (only 119 words)